POINTS ON

PAINT.

Last year we took the General Agency for the "Colonial" Paint—Manufacturer put the Analysis on the Can, where it belonged—we bought $100, sold perhaps $15.

Since April 1st, this year, we have bought over $2000 for local trade, have sold over $4000 (wholesale and retail) some 1200 gallons, put in stock here—remarkable sale, if you consider that this Paint was almost unknown here two months ago.

Reason is—convince the user that the Paint is pure, then he will prefer lead, oil and zinc ground together by machinery, to mixing by hand, so the Manufacturer gets the state Chemist's Analysis, puts it on every Can, then you may know the Paint is pure—result, the Instant Capture of the Confidence of the Public.

People say who use the Paint—one man says, too thick (good fault) another said, found a lump in a five-gallon pail (accident probably) many others say, best paint ever used, spreads the finest, makes the best looking job, has the best gloss, many other things in favor (people are extravagant in praise of a good thing) we believe it is GOOD PAINT when we don't, we'll let you know.

If this were Ordinary Paint, do you think we could tell this story? REMEMBER "COLONIAL."

"My Dixie Girl."

This play is, perhaps, more representative of the south than those that have gone before, because of the fact that the entire action takes place within its borders, and that Miss Sadie Calhoun, the charming southern actress, plays the title role. No exception to the rule is the bright, clean, comedy drama, "My Dixie Girl," which comes to the Stanley Opera House on Monday, June 4.

Memorial Day Observances.

The Official Sunday Evening.—The Official Program for Today.—The Annual Concert Tonight.

Count not the cost of honor to the dead! The tribute that a mighty nation pays To those who loved her well in former days

Means more than gratitude for glories dead; For every noble man that she hath bred, Immortalized by art's immortal praise, Lives in the bronze and marble that we raise.

To lead our sons as he our fathers led, These monuments of manhood, brave and high, Do more than fortify our hearts to keep Our dear-bought liberty. They fortify The heart of youth with valor wise and deep.

They build eternal bulwarks, and command Eternal strength to guard our native land.

The address to Chamberlin Post and the people of St. Johnsbury was given in Music Hall Sunday evening by Rev. Dr. Edward D. Eaton. Music was furnished by the double quartet choir and the boy choir of the North church, the opening prayer was given and the scriptures read by Rev. A. F. Welch and the prayer before the address was given by Rev. A. H. Gage.

Rev. Dr. Eaton said his address was suggested by the words of the Psalmist, "In the name of our God we will set up our banners." He gave a strong and scholarly address on "Loyalty" which, he said, was derived from the same Latin word as law. He said loyalty was not devotion to any particular state as the doctrine of state sovereignty was settled by the civil war. Neither was a loyalty to any party as that made a man a partisan. Loyalty is a devotion, a virtue, a principle, a self-surrender. We are loyal to our country and the profound loyalty in the North and the loyalty of the boys in blue at the front saved the nation in the '60s. Those living in a monarchy are loyal to the King.

We have in place of the monarch the flag, which is a universal symbol of the loyalty of the American people toward their country. The flag everywhere expresses the principles of our country—liberty and law combined. Our country is the gift of God and religion is loyalty to God. No man can love his country more perfectly unless he loves his God.

In closing Dr. Eaton briefly touched upon the great problem of immigration and the great disclosures of corruption in high places and said if we were loyal to God and to the Divine teachings of Christ God would bless this nation most abundantly.

The address was full of helpful words of great statesmen in this and other countries and was listened to by a most interested audience.

Modern Home Plumbing

The sanitary equipment of the home is an all-important matter, as there is no other feature of the house which will afford as much comfort and be so conducive to perfect health as good plumbing.

It is well to keep in mind when building, the fact that yourself and family may be required to occupy the home for a long period without new plumbing being installed, therefore the few extra dollars expended to obtain the best will in reality be HEALTH ASSURANCE.

C. H. GOSS COMPANY.

All of our plumbing contracts are executed by the best skilled mechanics, under our personal supervision and no detail, no matter how unimportant it may seem, escapes our attention. We use the famous "Standard" Porcelain Enameled Plumbing Fixtures, which are the best made. By placing your work with us, you are assured of the best material and workmanship obtainable.
